Spring Harvest launch new Worship Masterclass stream

Spring Harvest 2008 will play host to the first Worship Masterclass; a special stream running alongside the main programme during Skegness Week 2 for anyone interested in learning more about worship.

Ben Cantelon, worship director for Soul Survivor Watford, recently joined the Worship Masterclass planning team already comprising of Sue Rinaldi, Dave Bilbrough and Chris Bowater.

Ben commented "I'm really excited about being part of this year's Worship Masterclass. It's a great opportunity for those who have a heart and passion to worship our God with all that we have!"

The planning team are currently putting together a programme focussed on the practical, authentic and local church aspects of leading worship services. Consisting of both morning and afternoon sessions, the stream will provide a variety of plenary and master class sessions led by experts for worship leaders, musicians, technicians, service leaders and creative participants to choose from.

Guests attending the Worship Masterclass will also be able to enjoy the main Spring Harvest programme of Bible teaching and exposition, seminars, worship and celebration as well as the Butlins leisure facilities. Children and young people also have their own teaching and worship programme lead by youth specialists.

To book your Masterclass place, call Butlins on 0871 230 7451 to book into Spring Harvest Skegness Week 2, and then request a Worship Masterclass registration flyer by calling 01825 769000.
